

We only have a couple of students from a different cultural background...

Sometimes there are only a couple of students from a different cultural background in a class.

- Their culture matters. Give consideration to how these students experience the world inside and outside of the classroom.
- Acknowledge and celebrate differences
- Everyone has a cultural heritage – encourage all students to celebrate this and learn from each other
- Consider ethnicity and culture as a central issue in the teaching of lessons
- Normalise talking about culture and ethnicity
- Involve all class members in thinking of ways to acknowledge and celebrate each other's culture
- Address issues such as racism, discrimination and prejudice – these are issues all students should learn about, not just students from diverse cultural backgrounds
